

Sport for Life Leaders School

Become the leader your community or sport organization needs.

Sport for Life Leaders School will help you start your community or sport organization project, with expertise and mentorship from the Sport for Life team. Become new type of leader, for a new type of Canadian sport.

Supported over a one year span, the Sport for Life Leaders School participants will plan, launch, and lead community or sport organization projects, with guidance and mentorship of the Sport for Life team. Develop first-hand experience through practical implementation of your project in your community. Principles for long-term success are delivered monthly with online seminars. Engage with Sport for Life experts and peers from anywhere.

Seminars will be based on physical literacy, Sport for Life Long-Term Athlete Development Framework, and community development.

Past seminars have included:

- 1 How Change Happens in Organizations
- 2 A Community Approach to Physical Literacy
- 3 Foundations of Physical Literacy
- 4 Aligning Canadian Sport
- 5 Sport for Inclusion and Development
- 6 The Future of Sport for Life

Apply at sportforlife.ca/leaders-school today!

Space is limited. Application deadline for 2018 is November 30, 2017.