

We are committed to protecting your privacy and the security of information you provide to us. Sport for Life Society will not sell, rent, lease or disclose customer information to third parties unless required by law or unless you provide consent to such a disclosure. Other terms of Sport for Life's privacy policy are as follows:

Information Collection

When you engage in activities on our web site, Sport for Life may ask you to provide us with information.

By choosing to enter and submit the requested information when prompted, you are consenting to Sport for Life's collection, use, and disclosure of such information for the purposes of providing the services to you as outlined herein.

How We Use Your Information

Any information collected will be used only by Sport for Life to communicate with you in the form of newsletters and notices if you give us permission to do so. Sport for Life uses information and/or e-mail addresses for internal purposes only and does not sell, lease or rent information to third parties.

Sport for Life Society Website

The purpose of this information request will be optional and required only to engage in certain activities. Additional information we may ask you to provide when choosing to engage in other activities on our website may include name, mailing address, telephone number, facsimile numbers, e-mail address, and other demographic information that will enable us to better understand our users and continue to provide improved services.

Security of Your Personal Information

Sport for Life takes the protection of the personal information you provide very seriously. Any personal information is invulnerable to hackers. Internal data is shared through secured transmissions and maintained in secured databases.

Sport for Life may hire certain outside contractors to perform services or functions on our behalf (such as web development and graphic design). We will only provide those companies the personal information they need to complete the desired service. They are not permitted to use personal information for any other purpose and are obligated to keep your personal information confidential.
