APPENDIX B

FORMAL HEARING GUIDELINES

The following procedural steps are guidelines for a Formal Hearing. The Discipline Committee can modify these as needed, and should modify them if necessary to maintain a balance of fairness for both parties.

1. FORMAL HEARING PROCEDURE

1.1. DECLARATION OF CONFLICT

Prior to the Hearing the Chair would write to each of the Complainant and the Respondent, introducing the members of the Disciplinary Committee. The Chair would also include in the document the question, “Is there are any objections to any of the Discipline Committee members hearing and deciding upon the Hearing”.

The Complainant and the Respondent must respond within seven days to the question by either agreeing to the members of the Discipline Committee or objecting to the members providing the basis for the objection. Failure to respond within the seven days would indicate the Complainant and or Respondent have no objections.

The Discipline Committee would determine whether there is bias or a conflict of interest. If the Discipline Committee determines there is bias, the member involved would disqualify him or herself. Other members for the Disciplinary Committee would be selected per the procedure. Declaration of Conflict would occur for each member of the Discipline Committee.

1.2. INTRODUCTIONS

The Chair welcomes the Complainant and the Respondent and asks them to introduce themselves. Formal introductions are helpful to any other parties who are present and the Committee members, and also serve to open the hearing in a respectful manner.

1.3. EXPLANATION OF PROCEDURE

The Chair would explain the procedure to be followed in the Hearing. It should be emphasized that the purpose of the Hearing is to ensure that all evidence needed to make the decision is brought forward. The Chair must emphasize that all comments be directed through the chair. This ensures that the Complainant and the Respondent avoid debating or arguing with each other. The Discipline Committee would want to decide how it would conduct itself at this stage, as this will set the tone for the Hearing. For example, the Committee may choose to address the Complainant, Respondent and each other by first names, which helps to establish a more relaxed atmosphere.

1.4. OATH/AFFIRMATION

The Discipline Committee may wish to ask all parties to give evidence under oath or affirmation. “Swearing In” conveys the seriousness of the proceedings. It also indicates that both the Complainant and the Respondent will be held to the same standard of “truth” as well as reinforcing the independent status of the Hearing.

1.4.1. PROCEDURE FOR TAKING AN OATH

A Disciplinary Committee Member will ask the witness giving evidence to come forward and place his or her right hand upon the Bible. The Disciplinary Committee member then asks the witness, “Do you solemnly swear that this evidence you are about to give shall be the truth, so help you God?” The witness should answer affirmatively (“I do”, “I so swear”, or a similar statement). If any individual objects to swearing an oath on the Bible, he or she may “affirm”, in which case the Disciplinary Committee member asks the individual to raise his or her right hand and then asks, “Do you solemnly affirm that the evidence you are about to give shall be the truth?” The witness should answer affirmatively.

1.5. COMPLAINANT’S ARGUMENT

The Complainant should be asked to go first and explain his or her complaint. If the Complainant is presenting any written materials at this stage, copies must be given to the Discipline Committee and to the Respondent.

The basic principle is that any evidence (whether verbal or written) which the Disciplinary Committee is asked to consider must be shared openly with the other party.

1.6. RESPONDENT’S REBUTTAL

When the Complainant’s submission is concluded, the Chair would ask the Respondent if he or she has any questions or comments. This is not an invitation for the Respondent to present his or her case or to make a speech. It is only an opportunity to highlight or clarify points arising from the Complainant’s submission.

The Disciplinary Committee members may also ask questions of the Complainant at this point.

When the Disciplinary Committee is satisfied that the Complainant has presented all his or her evidence, and that all questions have been answered, the Hearing would move to the next step.

1.7. RESPONDENT'S ARGUMENT

The Respondent would present his or her submission.

1.8. COMPLAINANT'S REBUTTAL

When the Respondent has concluded, the Complainant is given an opportunity for rebuttal, as in 1.6 Respondent's Rebuttal.

The Disciplinary Committee members may also ask questions of the Respondent at this time.

When the Disciplinary Committee is satisfied that the Respondent has presented all his or her evidence the Hearing would move to the next step.

1.9. OTHER INFORMATION

At this point the Disciplinary Committee has heard submissions and rebuttals from both parties, and everyone has had the opportunity to seek answers to questions. The Disciplinary Committee should then ask both the Complainant and the Respondent if they have any further comments. This is to ensure that all of the relevant information has been brought forward for consideration before asking each party to give their closing statements.

1.10. CLOSING STATEMENTS

Both parties would make a closing statement before the hearing is adjourned. The Respondent would go first, leaving the Complainant to have the last word.

1.11. DELIBERATION AND DECISION

When the Hearing concludes, both the Complainant and the Respondent would be asked to leave the room so the Disciplinary Committee can deliberate in private. During deliberations the Disciplinary Committee would determine if they were able to come to a decision immediately. If not, both parties would be called in and told that the decision and the reasons for the decision would be coming to them within ten (10) days.

If at all possible, the Disciplinary Committee should make and give its decision immediately. In addition to being the most convenient approach for everyone, this also shows the Disciplinary Committee to be responsive and accountable.

When the decision is given immediately, a written decision with reasons is still be sent out to the parties within ten (10) days.

During deliberations the Disciplinary Committee would determine if the complaint is without merit, was brought forward in a vexatious manner, or is valid. If the complaint is found to be without merit, the reasons would be presented, and then the case would be closed.

If the complaint were found to be valid or brought forward in a vexatious manner, the Disciplinary Committee would determine the appropriate disciplinary action to be taken.

At the conclusion of the decision, the Chair will inform both the Complainant and the Respondent that they have option to appeal the decision under the Sport for Life Society Appeals Policy. A Notice of Appeal and Request a Hearing must be served to the Sport for Life Society Board Chair within ten (10) days from the decision.
